

Danny Webber Biography

Danny Webber is a jazz, classical, and rock guitarist from Hagerstown, MD. Keeping an active performing schedule, you can find him playing with some of the most celebrated local musicians throughout the tri-state area, and beyond. Playing in solo, duo, trio, and quartet settings, his refined yet energetic approach is earning an ever-growing fan base.

When not performing, Danny is Music Program Coordinator and Professor of Music and Humanities at Hagerstown Community College. With degrees in guitar performance and modern humanities from Shepherd College, Frostburg State University, and Shenandoah Conservatory, Danny teaches a wide range of subjects including History of Jazz, History of Rock and Roll, Electronic Music, Music Appreciation, and The Arts: A Creative Synthesis, a survey of the arts and ideas of Western Culture.